Joyce Bullock

Independent Educator - Fun Learning - Adult Education

Joyce Bullock has a passion for giving people the opportunity to learn about green issues, how to preserve the world's natural resources by using food and plants as a fun and practical medium.

Born out of her experience as a well-regarded garden designer, Joyce works with adults, children and mixed groups.

She enjoys helping others explore the world around them, learning something new and having the satisfaction of making and growing.

As an experienced provider of learning opportunities, Joyce is able to tailor her sessions to the group she is working with and the resources available.

Joyce is commissioned by County Councils across the Midlands, the Worker's Education Association as well as Community Centres, Children's Centres and Schools plus the Arts Council.

Example Sessions

Joyce tailors each session to the members of the group, offering cross-curricula experiences and practical, fun learning. Here is a selection from her recent commissions:

Love Food, Hate Waste

A series of sessions looking at how we can reduce food waste, recycling and reusing resources as much as possible. Included composting, growing vegetables and planning gardens plus Christmas from the garden.

Type of Group: Adults Commissioned by: Workers Educational Association

Sensory Exploration

Exploring the world around us. Included scented container planting, bug hunts, storytelling and insect identification.

Type of Group: Children with learning disabilities Commissioned by: Sherbrook School, Cannock

Play and Grow

Sessions to encourage children more comfortable about starting school through fun activities with their parents and new teachers. Included planting sunflower seeds, making lacewing hotels, games and stories.

Type of Group: Rising 5s plus their parents Commissioned by: Sutton Coldfield Nursery and Infants Schools; Birmingham County Council for Four Oaks Cluster Children's Centre

Exploring Food

Practical sessions to explore where food comes from, tasting and using local produce, recipe ideas and gardening in a shoe box.

Type of Group: Young mothers Commissioned by: SureStart Family Centres, Stafford County Council

Teaching the Teacher

Enabling teachers to use food and plants in their lessons, giving cross-curricula examples such as the history of food, where it comes from in the world and how it is used.

Type of Group: Primary School Teachers Commissioned by: Stafford County Council

Gardening Evening Classes

Encouraging a passion for gardening, these sessions cover a wide variety of topics from gardening design, crop rotation, information about plants and growing your own food.
